SFDR CISD Celebrates National School Counseling Week

National School Counseling Week, sponsored by the American School Counselor Association (ASCA), will be celebrated from this week to focus public attention on the unique contribution of professional school counselors within U.S. school systems and how students are different as a result of what school counselors do. National School Counseling Week highlights the tremendous impact school counselors can have in helping students achieve school success and plan for a career.

San Felipe Del Rio CISD honors the work our school counselors do every day. "Counselors are a vital part of the educational process for all students as they meet the challenges of the 21st century," according to Dr. Carlos Rios, Superintendent of Schools. "Counselors actively engage with students on a daily basis to them examine their abilities, strengths, interests and talents; they partner with parents and teachers as they encounter the challenges of raising and educating children in today's world; and they always focus on positive ways to guide students in realizing their potential and set healthy, realistic and optimistic aspirations for themselves."

This recognition highlights the tremendous impact school counselors have in assisting students to achieve school success and plan for a career. SFDR CISD counselors provide invaluable services to our students, and are a vital part of the educational process for all students. We especially appreciate the critical and ongoing contributions of our counselors in supporting our students and families throughout the year. Please join us in thanking them for their service to our students, teachers, and education!
