They say every minute a star is born, and Buena Vista Elementary definitely did their part to showcase their young stars with a spectacular talent show. The aspiring stars ages 5 to 11 stepped into the spotlight eager and excited to put on a standing ovation performance. The talent show featured children who sang, danced and performed. According to the school music teacher, Mrs. Angela Leonor, the show began as a way to spotlight young talent in the school and to encourage children to express themselves artistically.

The Buena Vista beautification sessions put together by the STUCO were a way for students to gain insight and perspective as to how to be an active member in their school. Parents, students, and staff helped clean, paint and plant plants to beautify BV. The Student Council started at the Buena Vista Park and cleaned up the road that leads back to school.

This year Buena Vista provided an exciting opportunity to share real-life experiences, professionals’ knowledge, and all that it took to make successful professionals here in Del Rio. The purpose for having different local businesses come in was to help students build a connection between their education and their future career.
