Operation Max Vax

Words By: Quinn Bingham

Laughlin Air Force base has the Covid-19 vaccine. Every few weeks the base gives out vaccines. The base calls it Operation Max Vax. The point of contact from a person from the operation group answered a few questions about the vaccines. The vaccine is a shot that goes in your arm, and the person said it doesn't hurt at all only after 24 hours. Just know it does hurt for some people but not for all people. Laughlin Air Force Base gets the vaccines from the operation warp speed. It comes frozen in a box that weighs 80 pounds. It's 80 pounds because it's full of ice. 80 pounds is about two Kindergartners. That's a heavy box! The base can give out about 1,100 vaccines in a day. It takes about 30 minutes to do the operation. The point of contact from the person said there favorite part of doing Max Vax was getting people healthy. They have about 80 to 100 people to help out doing the vaccines. That job must be so cool to have. The next Max Vax is on Friday March 26th.

3rd Grade Wax Museum

Words By: Martin Nowak and Claire Wetterhall

In third grade, RBB Elementary, another fun project happened on Friday March 19, 2021. The 3rd graders put on a Wax Museum. In the case you don't know what a Wax Museum is, it is a museum where many students stand posed as historical figures, and say a speech about their figure, when you walk up to them and hit their button, because for the wax museum they will be that historical figure. That means that the speech that will give us big and small facts about these historical figures. The choices were Sacagawea, Lewis and Clark, Malala Yousafzai, Daniel Boone, Harriet Tubman, Ruby Bridges, Martin Luther King Jr, Alexander Graham Bell, The Wright Brothers, Sam Walton, Milton Hershey, Walt Disney, Bill Gates, Neil Armstrong, Sally Ride, Rosa Parks, Helen Keller, Amelia Earhart, and Louis Pasteur.

Animals Rule!

A club for critters, and thrilling news about tortoises and turtles!

Save the Turtles!

Words by Mariah Sands

Turtles and tortoises have been around since the dinosaur times which was 65 billion years ago, but these adorable reptiles are going extinct! One of these reasons is because of oil falling out of boats, turtles will eat/drink anything they see, so please be careful! Did you know that Arizona is trying to give out 100 turtles? Yeah, 100! These poor innocent turtles got frozen, so people brought them to the surface to warm up, and breathe. Not many people are trying to help save the turtles, please be the change and save any turtle in need!

A Club for Critters!

Words by Mariah Sands

A student at RBB elementary STEM magnet, named Mariah Sands, made a club called The Critter Club. The student said, "This club's purpose is to help, and protect all animals, and help the local animal shelter with their work." This student has her mother who is the assistant manager of the Lozano Fitness Center to print out posters for this club. She even put her mother's phone number on there so you can call her and ask this student to join! The student said that she is also working on a schedule for the club, and that she has an assistant, her full name is Amelia Le Music. Remember if you want to join the Critter Club look for the posters around and call her mother, or meet her after your school day is over.

Ghosts and Hauntings

Top 10 Most Haunted Places in the World

By Martin Nowak and Quinn Bingham:

There are many haunted houses around the world. Here, you can learn about the top ten most haunted places in the world...

10. Edinburgh Castle had many prisoners put to death. Whenever someone went there, they would feel unexplainable things.

9. Myrtles Plantation is said to be haunted by the ghost of a slave who used to work there, that got her ear cut off. Sometimes, visitors today lose earrings. The staff find them in strange places, such as the roof, in the chandelier, and in underpants!

8. The Queen Mary is the most haunted ship in the world. With echoes of drowning girls, and dead captains, The Queen Mary will send shivers down anyone's spine.

7. The Tower of London is home to the ghost of the famous Queen Anne Boleyn of England. Her husband, the king, had her killed. Her ghost haunts the tower, seeking revenge.

6. The Whaley House has served many purposes over the years, such as a home, a store, and a theater. However, it was abandoned due to the ghost of Jim Robinson, who was hung there in 1952.

5. The White House is home to the ghost of Abraham Lincoln and Abigail Adams, or so former presidents said. The rose garden is supposedly haunted by Dolley Madison.

4. Alcatraz Prison used to hold some of the most dangerous gangsters ever known to set foot on the earth. One of these was Al Capone, escape master. His ghost still haunts cell 181, his old cell of impersonation.

3. St. Louis Cemetery No.1 is the burial place of Marie Laveau, Voodoo queen of New Orleans. She used to help everyone with their problems. Her spirit is said to haunt her grave and help passer byes.

2. Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel contains a haunted mirror. the ghost of Marylyn Monroe haunts the mirror. Many guests have looked in the mirror and seen her face instead of their own.

1. The people at the Winchester House made rifles. The Winchester family kept getting shot by their own rifles. So, Sara Winchester made a trick house. It has doors that opened into walls, staircases that led to nowhere, and much much more.

Let the fun begin!

Just a little shout out to Colt-Ryder and Quinn who have reached over 90 pages in their book on book creator on Colt Ryder's and Quinn's amazing books. Go ahead and read their truly amazing book.

Crazy Comics!

Words by: Mariah Sands

Hey everyone, we have exciting news, the third grade Fiction Fandom newspapers are adding... cool comics! The comics will be at the end of every newspaper even this one (not including the old ones that were published a while ago sadly), but the good news about these comics is that they are going to be full of funny parts, and probably some jokes you can tell your friends and family! We hope you will enjoy the comics.

Fitness Test

Words By: Claire Wetterhall

Did you know that the fitness tests are done? Well they are! The fitness testing was throughout the week on PE days. 3rd, 4th, and 5th grades were testing all last week. The subjects were push ups, sit ups, running 1 mile, and more! Hopefully everyone did there best, because that's what matters most.
